This book is dedicated to
Mr. Louis Dugas

Mr. Louis Dugas has been a member of the Copiah-Lincoln community since 1982. Prior to coming to Copiah-Lincoln, he was employed with the Lafayette Parish Vocational Center, Itawamba Community College, and the Mississippi Department of Education. Currently he serves as the Dean of Career-Technical, and Workforce Education for Copiah-Lincoln Community College's Wesson Campus. He has received numerous honors during his career. During the 2004-2005 academic year he was named Staff Member of the Year, and in January 2000, he received the High Performance Award. Not only is he active at Copiah-Lincoln, but he is also active in his local community. He serves as a baseball coach, Deacon at the First Baptist Church of Raymond, a Sunday school teacher, and a member of his church Personnel Committee. He and his wife, Kathy, have two sons, Matt and Caleb, and they have one daughter, Allison. Everyone who works under his guidance comments on his kind and compassionate leadership.

Dean Dr. Rhonda L. Smith

Dean of Simpson County Center

Dr. Rhonda L. Smith joined the Copiah-Lincoln family on July 1, 2005, as Director of Admissions at the Simpson County Center. While her first love is teaching and daily interaction with students, she agreed to serve as Acting Dean for the 2006-2007 school year. Dr. Smith earned both her Bachelor of Arts and her Master of Education of William Carey in 1996 and 1997 respectively. She completed requirements for her Doctor of Education from Baylor University in 2002. Prior to Co-Lin, Dr. Smith worked at Jacksonville College in Jacksonville, Texas. During her time there, she served as Chair of the Department of Literature and Languages until she accepted an appointment to the position of Academic Dean. Dr. Smith enjoys reading, traveling, tennis, and Duke basketball. She is also very active in her church where she serves as pianist.

During the day, after school, and even on the weekends, students make their mark in the community, and in school, expressing themselves through clubs and organizations.

During the first year of its existence, Copiah-Lincoln's Simpson Campus has seen the formation of several clubs and organizations. Each club and organization plays a vital role within the life of the campus.

Clubs can foster new friendships and improve student life. Students often explore their careers and hobbies as members of various clubs. With many clubs to choose from, every student is bound to find one that suits his or her individual interests. Everyone wants to leave a mark on the Co-Lin community, and clubs are the best way to do so. Whatever your interest, there is a club here for you.

Together

With the heat of summer dissipating, the quiet Copiah-Lincoln Wesson Campus welcomes back its students. The hustle and bustle begins in August. One can hear the sounds of the band blaring across campus as band members finely tune their "show." Cheerleaders hurry to practices to prepare themselves to cheer the Wolfpack on, and Sojourners work hard to put on award winning shows. The fall semesters first event is the crowning of Miss Co-Lin. The beauty pageant, sponsored by the Trillium, brings not only a large group of girls together for competition, but also brings the campus "together as one" to support friends and family members vying for the title of "Miss Co-Lin." Whatever the event or task to be performed students, faculty, and staff come together to make each event, performance, and experience positive for all involved.

2007 Let's Hear it the Blu

For the Band, Wave Band!

The Copiah -Lincoln Community College Blue Wave Marching Band is considered one of the best marching bands in the state. The band members and directors put in many hours of practice, and each member is dedicated to his or her art, and their hard work has paid off. After performing during the half-time of the Co-Lin vs. Georgia Military bowl game, the Blue Wave Marching Band recieved a standing ovation by spectators on both sides of the football field.

Natchez

Together as one

Natchez Campus staff and students have a long tradition of working together ... enjoying all aspects of campus life. Like the city of Natchez, Co-Lin is a wealth of hospitable staff and students learning, working and having fun "together as one."

A new dean for Natchez

Teresa A. Harrison became the eighth dean of the Natchez Campus in July 2006. A graduate of Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College and Mississippi State University, Dean Harrison swiftly felt right at home at Co-Lin. "The faculty and staff instantly made me feel part of the terrific Co-Lin family, and I'm sure the relationship will only grow stronger over time. I have come to realize how dedicated and talented our Co-Lin employees are. Likewise, I have met many outstanding students who make Co-Lin Natchez a special place. And, I cannot say enough about how welcoming the entire Miss-Lou community has been. Without a doubt, my experiences so far have made Co-Lin Natchez and the Miss-Lou the place to be." A pet lover, Dean Harrison has led the way for Co-Lin Natchez to support the Natchez-Adams County Humane Society. She is the mother of two sons, John and William.

Dedicated to ...

Mark LaFrancis

2007 Trillium honoree Natchez Campus

*M*ark LaFrancis is Director of Public Information at the Natchez Campus. He also teaches Journalism and Broadcasting. He is advisor to the campus newspaper, N-Sights, which, since 1997, has won more than 120 awards in state competition, including being selected the Best Community College Newspaper in Mississippi three times. Mark LaFrancis also is in charge of marketing, promotions, special events, and other aspects of campus life. On campus, he is the creator and coordinator of the Holiday Millionaire Bowl, the Iron Teams Competition, Capture Co-Lin, Sounds of Co-Lin, the Spring Fling Bowling Ball, and other events and activities. He is the recipient of the High Performance Award and the National Institute of Staff and Organizational Development Award. Outside campus, he volunteers his time to a variety of community groups, including Boy Scouts, Knights of Columbus, the Natchez Area Community Alliance, and many more. A veteran, he is married to Eileen M. Maher, and they have two children, Mark and Mary, both students at Cathedral High School.

He also likes to cook.

Miss and Mr. Co-Lin Natchez

Ellenora McGehee

Quincy Futrell

Among the highest honors a student can achieve at Co-Lin Natchez is to be selected Miss and Mr. Co-Lin by a student vote. Such was the distinction given to sophomores Ellenora McGehee and Quincy Futrell. Ellenora is the daughter of Tom and Nan McGehee, an instructor at Co-Lin Natchez. She is a graduate of Natchez High School. She is an English and Speech Pathology major. Quincy is the son of Rosalyn and Riley McDowell. Quincy is a graduate of Wilkinson County High School, and is majoring in Respiratory Care Technology. Quincy also is an officer in the Student Government Association.

"Every day here at Co-Lin has been the best."
- Ellenora McGehee

"The person I want to be is someone known for always being there for others and giving back to the community."
- Quincy Futrell
